Injury Much Worse Than First Supposed

Surgeons Will Not Probe For Bullet In Roosevelt's Body.

COLONEL IS HOLDING HIS OWN

Serum to Guard Against Development of Tetanus at a Later Time Is Injected by the Physicians—Injury Described Officially as a "Serious Wound in the Chest"—Bullet Reported Resting Near the Liver.

Chicago, Oct. 16. — Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was not merely superficially wounded by the bullet
shot into his breast in Milwaukee by John Schrank, it was determined by surgeons after thorough examinations
and consultations, and the colonel must not see or speak to any one for several days without permission of the doctors.

The wound was definitely described as "a serious wound in the chest," and "not a mere flesh wound." The late bulletin, which prohibited communication between the colonel and others than his attendants, declared
"that quietude is absolutely essential."

The surgeons asserted, however,
that it was not yet necessary to probe
for the bullet and the patient probably will be kept as calm as nature
will allow him for a few days.

The attending surgeons have deemed it inadvisable to probe for the bullet into the chest wall of the colonel,
and which entered an inch below the right nipple, coursed downward and now rests near the liver. It is their view that there is no immediate danger, and they are awaiting a report
from Milwaukee as to whether the remaining bullets found in the pistol
of the assassin were poisoned. If this report indicates they were not, no attempt will be made for the present to locate the bullet unless suppuration
sets in.

Surgeons Apprehensive.

That the surgeons were apprehensive in this matter was evidenced by the fact that the surgeons injected
as a precautionary measure a serum
to guard against the development or appearance of tetanus at a later time.

That there is possibility of danger
from the wound was the admission of
Dr. Terrell, who accompanied Colonel Roosevelt to Chicago. "I would not wish to say at this time he is not dangerously wounded," said the surgeon. "The gun was a foul one and the bullet passed through too many substances before it entered his body
for the fear of blood poisoning not to be imminent."

The latest bulletin from the sick room reads: "Colonel Roosevelt has a temperature of 99.2 and a pulse of 86.
There is less pain in breathing. The patient has practically no cough and no bloody expectoration. He is resting easily."

The surgeons' report is that there are absolutely no grave symptoms in Colonel Roosevelt's case. It is not the custom in modern surgery to probe at once in cases of gunshot wounds.
The only danger left in Colonel Roosevelt's case, and it is a remote
one, is that of blood poisoning.

That the colonel is holding his own
is evidenced by the fact that after the official bulletin of the surgeons had been given out he sent for a stenographer, Albert H. McGrath, and began personally to answer the more important of the hundreds of telegrams that had been pouring in from every part.

The flesh along the course of the bullet shows no discoloration, and there appears to the physicians no
cause for concern from any feature of the assault, now past.

Sisters passing quietly along the hallway crossed themselves and murmured prayers when passing a framed apostolic benediction signed by Pope Pius, asking divine favor on Dr. J. B. Murphy, chief physician at the colonel's bedside, and "any patient he might have within these walls."

Jests With Calm.

Colonel Roosevelt talked little of the assault. Most of that discussion was in jests with those who called on him. When the physicians turned

CONFESSION OF SCHRANK FREELY MADE

Tells Police Why He Tried to Kill Theodore Roosevelt.

NOT SOCIALIST OR ANARCHIST

Deed He Declares Was Prompted by
a Dream in Which He Alleges Mc-Kinley Appeared and Charged That Roosevelt Was Practically His Mur-derer—States Any Man Who Wants
a Third Term Has No Right to Live.

Milwaukee, Oct. 16.—The police authorities completed the work of transcribing the formal confession of John Schrank, the would-be assassin
of Former President Roosevelt. This statement is the first authoritative detailed account of his act given by the would-be assassin. He was quizzed as follows:

"What object did you have in following around and trying to meet Roosevelt?"

"I have been reading history and
following up history and I have seen that this man Roosevelt is trying to break one of the old-time established traditions of the country, calling it a third-term, which he has no right to.
I had in mind to meet him and he escaped me every time; he escaped me in Atlanta and Chattanooga."

"Why did you wish to meet him?"
"Because I wanted to put him out of the way. A man that wants a third term has no right to live."

"That is, you wanted to kill him?"
"I did."

"Have you any other reason in wanting to kill him?"

"I have. I had a dream several years ago that Mr. McKinley appeared to me and he told me that Mr.
Roosevelt is practically his real mur-derer and not this here Czolgosz. Mr.
Roosevelt is practically the man that has been the real murderer of President McKinley in order to get the presidency of the United States because the way things were at that time he was not supposed to be president; all the leaders did not want him; that's the reason they gave him
the vice presidency, which is political suicide; that's what I am sore about,
to think Mr. McKinley appeared to me in a dream and said, 'This is my murderer and nobody else.'"

"You made up your mind to this all yourself?"

"Yes. Because I am alone, although
I own property in New York at 493 East Eighty-first street. It consists of an apartment house with 10 tenants; it is estimated at $25,000."

"Did you attend any political meetings in New York before you left?"

"I attended several yes, sir; ever since I was coming across the country, I had political meetings at Evansville, Ind., of the three political parties."

"Who furnished you with funds
that you needed to travel around the country?"

"I beg your pardon, I was just telling you I have property there and had the money. I am not an anarchist or Socialist or Democrat or Republican. I just took the thing the way I thought it was best to do. I thought there should be an example of the third term if it should exist any longer."

Interest Case Highest Court Affirms Ruling Lower Courts

Interest Paid by Cincinnati Banks
Can Not Be Recovered.

Columbus, O., Oct. 16.—Final failure has marked the effort to recover
interest illegally paid to county treasurers by Cincinnati banks, in which public funds were deposited before it was legal to make such deposits. The supreme court affirmed the lower courts in holding that interest charged to have been paid to Frank Ratterman, Hamilton county treasurer from 1884 to 1888, and to Reuben
B. Brooks, county treasurer from 1890 to 1892, could not be recovered.
The decision does not touch the questions which are vital to the Mc-Kinnon and Cameron state treasury interest cases, one of which is to be argued today.

St. Clairsville, O., Oct. 16.—A riot
was narrowly averted at Maynard following the shooting of Okey Howard, 24, by Italians in camp cars, when one of Howard's friends endeavored to knock a beer bottle from a car window with a stone. Howard was shot in the spine.

Roosevelt Man Shot.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 16.—Charles Brown, a Roosevelt supporter, was shot in the hip by a fanatic, who was apparently celebrating the shooting of Colonel Roosevelt. The shooter escaped.

SOX WIN THE FINAL

Fenway Park, Boston, October 16th.—Hordes of wild-eyed, frantic baseball fans stayed up all night, pushed, crowded and jammed their way through the gates to the ball park all day today to see the game which was to decide a world's championship. Both teams took the field in good shape—neither over-confident of its ability to take the measure of the other, but both hopeful of victory.

Manager Stahl pinned his faith to the youngster, Hugh Bedient, who had so far pitched the best game of the series. McGraw chanced all on the reliable "Big Six" Matthewson, than whom there is none better.
It was the veteran against the youngster both masters of the mechanical end of the great game, and both gifted with plenty of nerve and plenty of good judgment—the one with the experience of years as an aid, the other with the enthusiasm of youth. Matthewson just over, and Bedient just coming into his prime. Two eminent masters of the twirler's art, the professor and the student.

It was a game over which base ball enthusiasts go wild. The weather, the grounds, the crowd, the reward at stake and the game itself. It was a gem set in a framing ideal.

Myers, the durable red man, received for New York, while the faithful Cady did the backstopping for the Red Sox.

Both pitchers and the players of both clubs got away at the start in good shape and not a wobble marred the great game.

The score:

Giants	0	0	1

BATTERIES:
New York---Matthewson and Myers.

SAM SCHEEPS TOUGH JESTER STANDS FIRM

Resists Efforts of Becker's Counsel to Put Him Up in the Air.

New York, Oct. 16. — Jack Rose's jester and the playboy of the Rosenthal murder, Sam Schepps, testified
for six hours in the trial of Lieutenant Becker and exhibited the qualities that made him the joy of the gamblers in their lighter hours.

Resisting every device of John F.
McIntyre to trap him into admitting that he was an accomplice with Rose, Webber and Vallon, and insisting that he was kept in the dark and used only as an errand boy by Rose and Webber, Schepps swore that the night after the murder he talked with Becker in Becker's house, and that Becker sent this message to Rose:
"Don't mind anything. I'll fix it all right. They have to prove who killed Rosenthal before they can convict anyone."

And Schepps added that Becker,
in the darkened dining room of the apartment, wouldn't let him smoke,
and that Becker said: "Don't light that match. Somebody is across the street and if they see a light they will suspect something. They have been trailing me all day."

To Mr. McIntyre, Schepps was an exasperating witness. He had the dimmed memories for times and dates. But he had an extraordinary faculty for recalling previous statements and frequently corrected the lawyer.

Engineer Decapitated.
Cambridge, O., Oct. 16.—Robert
Bates of Newark, employed as engineer on the B. & O. yard engine here,
was decapitated in the local yards.
He had gotten off his engine to inspect the asphalt, when the fireman
backed the engine upon him.

GIANTS RAP WOOD HARD

Smoky Joe's Offerings Hit to All Corners of the Lot.

SEVEN HITS GOOD FOR SIX RUNS

Pitcher Hall Takes Up the Burden
but Does Not Succeed in Keeping
the New Yorkers From the Plate.
Big Jeff Tesreau Has the Goods and Wins His First Game of the Championship Series.

Boston, Oct. 16.—Going at the Red Sox with bristling front from the outset, the Giants yesterday afternoon
knocked the props from under the American league champions in quick time and won the game from a running start.

The Giants' sweeping triumph was achieved by a score of 11 to 4, and
of the opulence which they enjoyed
in scoring, six runs were gathered in the first inning.

All told, it was a helter skelter
sort of a game, the chief development of which was the quick finish dealt out to Joe Wood. Smoky Joe went up in smoke, the peerless pitcher lasting but one inning. The whole
New York team went to bat off Wood
and in the proceedings flogged him
for seven hits.

The hitting redundancy, so to speak, of the New Yorkers began in the first with a safe jab by Devore. Devore no more than reached first than Doyle spiked one base shot to center. Devore and Doyle broke out on a double steal on the first pitch to Snodgrass. Snodgrass' contribution was a two-bagger which ripped through Hooper. Doyle and Devore scored. Murray sacrificed to Stahl.
Merkle made a scratch hit. Herzog toled hard to Wood and Merkle was run down. Cut and slash hitting followed Merkle's out. Meyers rammed
a single to left and Herzog scored.
Fletcher jumped a single past Stahl
and Meyers turned second and went on to third. Jeff Tesreau bounced a hit off Wood's glove, beating the throw to first and bringing in Meyers,
and Fletcher to third, and the instant Cady threw to Yerkes to intercept a steal by Jeff, Fletcher bore down on the plate.

Two Homers Hit Out.

In the second, Devore and Doyle
both walked; Devore was out stealing third. Snodgrass singled, Doyle going to second. Hall tried the same thing on Doyle he had worked on Devore. He threw wild and Doyle came in from third.

Gardner rhaled a home run to right
center in the second, the ball tipping Snodgrass' hands as it skipped over the rail. Stahl fouled to Meyers.
Fletcher threw out Wagner, making a fast play. Cady struck out.

In the sixth the Giants made two more runs. Devore walked and Doyle hit a home run to right.

Another run came New York's way
in the seventh. Merkle counted on the first ball pitched and reversed it for a single. Meyers hit to Wagner.
Merkle beat Wagner's throw to Yerkes at second. Fletcher fled to Speaker, but Tesreau made a hit
which brought in Merkle.

In the seventh Speaker and Lewis
made hits. Lewis' hit was a two-bagger to the left field fence. Speaker scored on Gardner's out at first.
Fletcher to Merkle. Stahl grounded to Doyle, who fumbled, and Lewis scored.

Slovenly fielding gave the Red Sox
a run in the eighth. A pop fly by Cady arose and Merkle and Doyle gazed at it. When Doyle took a sudden turn for the fly he was out of position and dropped it. Hall's single put Cady on third, and he scored from there on Hooper's fly to Snodgrass.

A pass to Herzog, a timely hit by Wilson and an error by Gardner combined to give the Giants a run in the ninth.

The deciding game of the series
will be played here this afternoon.

Colonel Roosevelt's itinerary, which of course has been abandoned, called for an address in Louisville tonight. When he was informed by the surgeons in attendance that he probably would not be able to take a further personal part in this campaign, he decided that the Kentucky city should be the place from which his battle call should be sounded.

ROOSEVELTS IN CHICAGO

Factor Lambert, Family Physician, Accompanies Colonel's Relatives.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Miss Ethel Roosevelt arrived here from New York. Here they joined Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, who arrived ahead of them from her home in Cincinnati. With Mrs. Roosevelt, her son and daughter is Dr. Alexander S. Lambert, for 20 years the family physician of the Roosevelts. Dr. Lambert said he wanted to see the colonel before commenting on his condition, but he added that bulletins from Mercy hospital led him to believe that the wound would not prove serious.

WILSON QUITS STUMP

Cancels Every Engagement Until Roosevelt Is Able to Speak Again.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 16.—Governor Wilson announced his intention of cancelling every campaign engagement from which he can possibly withdraw until Mr. Roosevelt is able to take the stump again. "I can not well," he said, "cancel the engagements directly ahead of me without subjecting those who have arranged them to very serious embarrassment, but I shall cut the series at the earliest possible point." His active speechmaking will end on his return on next Saturday from Delaware, West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Mr. Wilson's throat is troubling him. He returned from Philadelphia, where he consulted a specialist.

ARTHUR L. GARFORD.

Arthur L. Garford, the Progressive candidate for Governor, is making his first campaign for public office, although he has been a prominent figure in state and national politics for many years. He was born in Elyria fifty-four years ago and now lives within a half block of the house where he came into the world. His career is typically American. Born on a farm, he was educated in the public schools, became a bookkeeper in a Cleveland importing house and later was successively bookkeeper, teller and cashier in the largest bank in Lorain county. Mr. Garford's manufacturing career began when he invented a bicycle saddle. When the bicycle business collapsed, he entered the automobile manufacturing field and until recently was the head of the Garford Automobile Co. of Elyria. Mr. Garford was a leader in the fight in the Chicago Republican convention, but when the Progressive party was formed was recognized as one of its foremost members. His nomination as candidate for governor by the Progressive state convention which was by acclamation, caused a demonstration such as has seldom been seen in political conventions. Mr. Garford will visit every section of the state during the present campaign.

Lutheran Synod Meets.

Upper Sandusky, O., Oct. 16.—The sixty-sixth annual meeting of Wittenburg synod of the Lutheran church, comprising 18 counties in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, was opened here. The following candidates were examined for ordination: John J. Gardner, Louisville, Ky.; Charles Foust, Belleville; Clyde Ander, Dayton; Bruce Young, Casttown, and Dwight Baer, Mansfield. Arthur Hall of Mansfield was examined for licensure for one year.

Must Designate Judgeship.

Columbus, O., Oct. 16.—In a decision in the case of A. L. Smedley versus C. H. Graves, secretary of state, the supreme court upheld the ruling of Secretary Graves that there must be a designation on the non-partisan judicial ballot by candidates for common pleas judge as to whether they are running for the constitutional or statutory office. Part of the common pleas judgeships in Ohio are created by the constitution and others are created by statute.

LANDLORDS A PERIL HERE?

Former M. P. From England Says the System Is Gaining Ground in United States.

St. Joseph, Mo.—That America is fast coming to the landlord and tenantry stage of England, with its attendant woes, was the statement made by Francis Neilson, former member of the British parliament, in speaking at the courthouse on the relation of the taxation of land values in England to the single-tax movement in America. Neilson said 180 members of the house of commons signed the manifesto for the taxation of land values, a movement that is being fought to the bitter end by the peers, who own two-thirds of the 77,000,000 acres of land in the United Kingdom.

It was a charming summer morning. Bobby, aged five; Seth, aged four, and Jennie, aged three, were escorting their father, Doctor Jackson, on his daily visit to the village postoffice. He had promised them candy, and they straggled along in great content.

Opposite the telephone office the procession was suddenly brought to a stop by the operator, who appeared in the door and beckoned the doctor imperatively.

"Hey, doc! You're wanted over at Clifton right away!" he cried. "I tried to get you at the house, and your wife said you were on your way downtown. You've got to hurry!"

The doctor turned about hurriedly, but the three pleading faces made him hesitate. He thrust his hand into his pocket, found no pennies. So he selected a nickel, and placed it in Bobby's hand.

Bobby, who had not yet learned that there were coins of larger value than the penny, took the nickel without much enthusiasm, and the children proceeded to the candy shop. Here Bobby took his seat upon an upturned box and let his chin fall upon his breast. A telltale sob betrayed his state of mind to the clerk.

"Why, Bob," exclaimed the sympathetic clerk, "I never knew you to cry! What's the matter?"

HOPE FOR WOMEN OF FIFTY

Time When She Should Be Philosophical and Prepared for Wise Old Age.

There are people today asking with all appearance of sincerity what a woman of fifty or more can do. Their confining work in the home, say these observers, is done. A common suggestion is that they be utilized in politics. This suggestion has its comical side, Miss Tarbell declares. A person who has nothing to do after fifty years of life in a business as many sided and demanding as that of a woman can hardly be expected to be worth much in a business as complicated and uncertain as politics and for which she had had no training. The notion that the woman's business is ended at fifty or sixty is fantastic in the extreme. It only ends there if she has been blind to the meaning of her own experiences; if she has never gone below the surface of her task—never seen in it anything but physical duties; has sensed none of its intimate relations to the community, none of its obligations toward those who have left her, none of those toward the oncoming generations. If it ends there she has failed to realize, too, the tremendous importance to all those who belong in her circle or who touch it of what she makes of herself, or her personal achievement.

A woman of fifty or sixty who has succeeded has come to a point of sound philosophy and serenity which is of the utmost value in the mental and spiritual development of the group to which she belongs. Life at every one of its seven stages has its peculiar harrowing experiences—hope mingled with uncertainty in youth; fear and struggle characterize early manhood; disillusionment, the question whether it is worth while, fill the years from forty to fifty, but resolute grappling with each period brings one out almost inevitably into a fine serene certainty which cannot but have its effect on those who are younger. Ripe old age—cheerful, useful, and understanding—is one of the finest influences in the world. We hang Rembrandt's or Whistler's picture of his mother on our walls that we may feel its quieting hand, the sense of peace and achievement which the picture carries. We have no better illustration of the meaning of old age.—American Magazine.

TRIUMPH OF GERMAN CHEMIST

Dr. Von Bolton Has Succeeded in Making Diamonds From Illuminating Gas.

Dr. W. Von Bolton has been trying to grow diamonds. At a recent congress of the German Bunsen society he described the decomposition of illuminating gas under the action of sodium amalgam, which precipitated the carbon in the form of black coal and, it seemed, of diamonds, but these were in too small quantity to permit of analysis. Dr. Bolton determined to obtain a greater quantity by making diamonds grow on some mother substance.

The Scientific American says he placed 50 grams of 14 per cent. sodium amalgam in a long testing tube, and coated the upper layer with a diluted water-glass solution, over which he spread amorphous diamond powder. The tube was kept at a temperature of 100 degrees centigrade in a water bath, after which a slow current of moistened illuminating gas was introduced. The amalgam was allowed to give off its mercury vapor for one month, when very little black carbon had been separated, but on the layer covered with diamond powder many particles of high brilliancy were found.

The contents of the tube were boiled in a platinum crucible with a mixture of fluoric and sulphuric acids. The microscope revealed that the amorphous powder had been converted into brilliant crystals, true diamonds, still too small, however, to allow of analysis.

Mr. Archbold was served with a subpoena on the day he returned from Europe, but ignored it.

Seen 'Em? Forged Bonds Are Floating At Random

Persons Implicated in Big Transaction Not to Be Found.

Brussels, Oct. 16.—A sensation was created here by the discovery that $2,500,000 worth of forged bonds, purporting to have been issued by a Belgian railway company, are in circulation in Belgium and abroad. Several persons who are implicated in the transaction have disappeared, including a director of the railroad company, who abused his position by placing the worthless scrip. One of his accomplices, a clerk, has been arrested. The authorities are making a searching inquiry at the government stamping department and stock broker's offices.

YOUR COAL PROBLEM SOLVED

No need to worry about your winter's coal bill if you use the

ESTATE HOT STORM

It burns any grade of soft coal in a highly successful manner, through the use of the Estate Hot Blast and Hot Air Circulating Systems, the greatest improvements ever made in a soft coal stove.

It heats by both radiation and hot air circulation, producing practically double the heat that is secured with ordinary coal stoves from the same amount of fuel.

By putting in coal once a day or two a steady fire from the time it is put up in the fall till taken down in the spring can be kept with but little attention and absolutely without smoke and gas escaping into the room.

You get this decidedly superior service, this demonstrable fuel economy, for the price of an ordinary stove. An examination will convince you.

The notion that the woman's business is ended at fifty or sixty is fantastic in the extreme. It only ends there if she has been blind to the meaning of her own experiences; if she has never gone below the surface of her task—never seen in it anything but physical duties; has sensed none of its intimate relations to the community, none of its obligations toward those who have left her, none of those toward the oncoming generations. If it ends there she has failed to realize, too, the tremendous importance to all those who belong in her circle or who touch it of what she makes of herself, or her personal achievement.

A woman of fifty or sixty who has succeeded has come to a point of sound philosophy and serenity which is of the utmost value in the mental and spiritual development of the group to which she belongs. Life at every one of its seven stages has its peculiar harrowing experiences—hope mingles with uncertainty in youth; fear and struggle characterize early manhood; disillusionment, the question whether it is worth while, fill the years from forty to fifty, but resolute grappling with each period brings one out almost inevitably into a fine serene certainty which cannot but have its effect on those who are younger. Ripe old age—cheerful, useful, and understanding—is one of the finest influences in the world. We hang Rembrandt's or Whistler's picture of his mother on our walls that we may feel its quieting hand, the sense of peace and achievement which the picture carries. We have no better illustration of the meaning of old age.—American Magazine.

Dr. Von Bolton Has Succeeded in Making Diamonds From Illuminating Gas.

Dr. W. Von Bolton has been trying to grow diamonds. At a recent congress of the German Bunsen society he described the decomposition of illuminating gas under the action of sodium amalgam, which precipitated the carbon in the form of black coal and, it seemed, of diamonds, but these were in too small quantity to permit of analysis. Dr. Bolton determined to obtain a greater quantity by making diamonds grow on some mother substance.

The Scientific American says he placed 50 grams of 14 per cent. sodium amalgam in a long testing tube, and coated the upper layer with a diluted water-glass solution, over which he spread amorphous diamond powder. The tube was kept at a temperature of 100 degrees centigrade in a water bath, after which a slow current of moistened illuminating gas was introduced. The amalgam was allowed to give off its mercury vapor for one month, when very little black carbon had been separated, but on the layer covered with diamond powder many particles of high brilliancy were found.

The contents of the tube were boiled in a platinum crucible with a mixture of fluoric and sulphuric acids. The microscope revealed that the amorphous powder had been converted into brilliant crystals, true diamonds, still too small, however, to allow of analysis.

Archbold Is Served

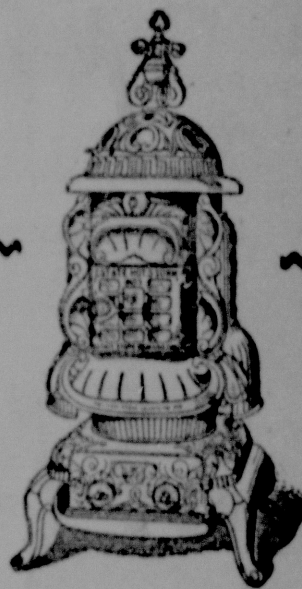

Must Show Cause Why He Should Not Appear Before Inquisition.

New York, Oct. 16.—John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company, was served with an order directing him to show cause in the supreme court on Thursday, before Justice Greenbaum, why he should not be required to appear before Abraham L. Jacobs, commissioner appointed here to take testimony in the Missouri litigation over the election of officers of the Waters-Pierce Oil company. Mr. Archbold was served with a subpoena on the day he returned from Europe, but ignored it.

Seen 'Em? Forged Bonds Are Floating At Random

Persons Implicated in Big Transaction Not to Be Found.

Brussels, Oct. 16.—A sensation was created here by the discovery that $2,500,000 worth of forged bonds, purporting to have been issued by a Belgian railway company, are in circulation in Belgium and abroad. Several persons who are implicated in the transaction have disappeared, including a director of the railroad company, who abused his position by placing the worthless scrip. One of his accomplices, a clerk, has been arrested. The authorities are making a searching inquiry at the government stamping department and stock broker's offices.

YOUR COAL PROBLEM SOLVED

No need to worry about your winter's coal bill if you use the

ESTATE HOT STORM

It burns any grade of soft coal in a highly successful manner, through the use of the Estate Hot Blast and Hot Air Circulating Systems, the greatest improvements ever made in a soft coal stove.

It heats by both radiation and hot air circulation, producing practically double the heat that is secured with ordinary coal stoves from the same amount of fuel.

By putting in coal once a day or two a steady fire from the time it is put up in the fall till taken down in the spring can be kept with but little attention and absolutely without smoke and gas escaping into the room.

You get this decidedly superior service, this demonstrable fuel economy, for the price of an ordinary stove. An examination will convince you.

PLANS ON FOOT FOR BIG "BUTTER FACTORY"

Prospects Bright for Erection of Modern Creamery in This City
in the Near Future.

NEARLY 40 STOCKHOLDERS
HAVE BEEN SECURED

Building and Equipment to Be Owned By Local Parties and Erected at Cost of Approximately $6500---The Enterprise
Means Much to the City and County--Farmers Interested Because Top Prices for Milk Will Prevail.

Within the next few weeks formal announcement will in all probability be made of the completion of plans for a large creamery or "butter factory" in this city—a thing that will be heralded with a great deal of satisfaction by Fayette county farmers
and citizens of Washington as well.

Mr. R. H. Sheldon, a widely known creamery builder, who represents the Burnett Building and Supply Company, has been in this community
the past few weeks, quietly working on the proposal. He has succeeded in interesting some of the prominent citizens of Washington and a great many farmers in the proposal to build a modern creamery at this point, the approximate cost of which will be $6500.

So well has Mr. Sheldon succeeded in the work that some 40 persons have agreed to take stock in the enterprise, and the success of the movement is virtually assured, but it will probably require a week or two to complete the list of stockholders desired and have everything in readiness for organization of the company and proceeding with the selection of a site and erection of the building.

Only those who live in a community which supports a good creamery
can realize the advantages of such an enterprise. It may surprise many citizens to know that in a single

of cream are disposed of in Fayette county to various creameries, or other consumers.

Washington is an ideal site for a month from 10,000 to 20,000 gallons creamery, surrounded as it is by plenty of fertile territory which offers splendid advantages for keeping cows, and Mr. Sheldon has found a ready response among the farmers,
who have shown much enthusiasm in the venture.

Mr. Sheldon is the man who organized the company that erected the new creamery at Chillicothe the past few months, and some of the local men recently visited the Chillicothe
creamery and were delighted with it.
At that place they are now churning as high as 3200 pounds of butter each week. 175 persons dispose of all of their cream to the Chillicothe
plant, and find it highly remunerative.

Government reports show an actual increase in lands in communities that support creameries. In one county in Wisconsin there are 16
plants, and the farmers in that county last year received $670,000 for milk.

It is expected that a large amount of the pure, sweet creamery butter
will be disposed of in this city, although the sale of the product will not depend on the local consumption
by any means.

Improving By Paving Court

The work of "paving the court
back of the Barnett and Parrett
grocery stores is nearing completion,
and the paving is a decided improvement over the old mud hole which has been gradually growing worse
for a long time.

So far only a portion of the courtyard has been paved, but before work
is suspended the greater part of it will be bricked and will add greatly to the appearance and sanitary condition of the place. This movement was first proposed last year, but work has been postponed until the present time.

Paved Streets Undergo Flushing

A number of men were engaged to flush the paved streets Tuesday night
and a large amount of the accumulated filth was washed off and the streets are now in better condition
than at any time for several months,
or as far back as last spring.

The streets were flushed by using the fire hose, and once more the brick are in plain view instead of a coat of unhealthful refuse which has been gradually accumulating until the paved streets had become very dangerous when damp, owing to their slippery condition.

sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system of impurities.

They do all that dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sicken-

Another Chapter Added To Geo. Reid's Career

Former Resident Now Located in Chillicothe Is "In Bad" Once
More, This Time Mixing It Up
With Irate Colored Woman,
Who Objects to Having Profanity and Club Hurlled at Her.

George M. Reid, well known in this city, is in bad again, or rather
yet. This time he faces the mayor of Chillicothe on trouble over collections for furniture, and the Chillicothe Advertiser in reporting the affair says in part:

George M. Reid, a well-known W.
Main street furniture man appeared in Police court this morning to answer to a charge of threatening to assault Mrs. Mary Allen, a colored lady. Reid had previously pleaded not guilty to the charge through his attorney, E. A. Tinker, and this morning testimony on the case was heard. Mrs. Allen said that on Thursday last, Reid had called at her house and asked her for a payment on some goods she had purchased of him. She told him that her baby had been sick with a fever and
she could not pay him at present.
She then claimed that Reid had asked her with strong language "when
in the h—!" she intended to pay him.

She ordered him off her porch and took a piece of hose on a stick and threw it at him. Reid then told her to come outside and he would hit her, she said, and took the club that she had thrown at him and drew back to hit her with it. Then the neighbors hearing the racket came out and told Reid not to hit her.

The defendant next took the stand and said that he had trouble about collecting from Mrs. Allen and when he went there last Thursday, he had asked her if she ever intended to pay him. She cursed him and pushed him off the porch. She next threw a club at him and followed this up with a scrub brush.

A neighbor lady offered him protection from the bombardment but he manfully stood his ground. He admitted cursing Mrs. Allen but only after she had provoked him into doing so by calling him several vile names.

Font Bee, one of Reid's collectors sprang a sensational bit of testimony
when he said that after the trouble,
a man named Butler had come to the store and told him that he was empowered by Mrs. Allen to settle the matter, if his firm would cancel
its contract against her and give her $5 besides. Bee of course refused.
Reid told newspaper men after the hearing that he had been approached with the same proposition.

Owing to the absence of Mrs.
Stribley, an important witness who is ill, a decision in the case will be withheld until her testimony can be taken.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

When you see silverware scratched and tarnished with black stains
and streaks in the interstices of the ornamental patterns, that is dirt,
left there by common, cheap rosin soaps. It is better to use a soap that is antiseptic as well as a perfect
cleansing agent. "Easy Task Soap,"
the hard, white laundry soap, will clean your silverware surely and quickly. It will get out the dirt
the other soaps have left. Your grocer will sell you two cakes for ten cents, and if it doesn't satisfy
you the makers will give back your dime.

Smith Remains On the Ticket

At the meeting of the Deputy Supervisors of Elections of the Fifth-Sixth Senatorial district, held in Chillicothe Tuesday, Amor J. Smith, of Osborn, Greene county, was allowed to remain on the Bull Moose ticket, Samuel A. Pye, of Blanchester, be-

SEALER ISSUES WARNING ON PURCHASE OF FRUIT

Fayette county's Deputy Sealer of Weights and Measures has prepared a notice to the general public on the buying of fruit, where some measure
is used which has not been "sealed."

The warning is for the protection of both the consumer and the local dealer, and can work no hardship
upon the man who lives elsewhere
and ships fruit here and retails it,
as long as the man transacts business in an honest manner.

Deputy Sealer Jones' warning follows:

"At present quite a great many apples and pears are being offered for sale, many by the box, crate or basket. This is mere guesswork and the purchaser will find as a general rule that they are short of a legal bushel of fifty pounds. If anyone prices by the bushel measure, look

for my official seal, and see that the measure is heaped up and that it is not dented. This is fair to the purchaser and to the one doing what is legal and right.

"I want to again urge the advisability of always buying a certain stated amount, and at a named price. A safe way is to ask for a ticket or bill with your purchase
every time.

"Remember, if you have cause to complain, notify me. I am ready to see that you secure honest weights
and measures and will weigh or measure for you at any time.

"As a rule you will find it safer to buy of your home people. They are here all of the time and can't afford to abuse your confidence, and if they should, it is easier corrected.
"Have scales of your own and use them. Look for the aluminum seal
on all scales when you are making a purchase. It means they are correct.
Yours respectfully,

H. W. JONES, Deputy Sealer."

COURT STREET

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Alden Bush delightfully entertained at her cozy country home on the Bush road on Tuesday, October 8th, at 2 o'clock, a number of her girl friends, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Ruth Fults, whose wedding took place yesterday.

The home was prettily decorated in roses, carnations and ferns.

Hearts were festooned on the curtains and prettily draped in the doorway between the dining room and sitting room, and from the ceiling to each corner of the dining table. The pink and white color scheme was carried throughout.

A "Bat" contest kept the crowd guessing. Miss Mary Craig received the first prize which was a very pretty picture, and Mrs. Frank Miller the "booby" prize, a china plate. These were then presented to the bride.

A two-course luncheon was served. The place cards were hearts with cupid tied with baby ribbon.

After the luncheon a blank cook book by "Dan Cupid" was passed and each were requested to write their favorite recipe in it to be presented to the bride-to-be.

Many useful and beautiful presents were then showered to the bride-to-be.

Every one reported a good jolly time and regretted that twilight reminded them that the time to go had come.

Those present were Misses Ruth Fults, Mabel Calvert, Ruth Perrill, Mina Rowe, Nina Bonham, Louise Weaver, Louise Ballard, Mabel Shoop, Massie Shoop, Athel Fults, Mary Craig, Ethel Miller, Belle Taylor, Mesdames Fred Springer, Frank Miller and J. P. Bush.

Those assisting the hostess were Miss Bell Taylor and Mrs. J. P. Bush.

Mrs. Val McCoy is entertaining at her delightful country home today Mrs. Hibben Ervin, Mrs. W. A. Harlow, Mrs. Maude Coffman, Mrs. Jos. P. Bailey, Mrs. J. N. Willson, Mrs. Robert Howat, of this city, and Mrs. Roy Hegler of Hegler's Station.

The engagement of Howard Hudson, cashier of the Merchants and Farmers bank of Blanchester, and Miss Opal Dowden, of Sabina, has been announced, the wedding to occur October 20. Both are popular young people in their home towns.

IT'S TRUE

Mother has had her picture taken rather oftener than father has—but even she hasn't been in two years, and that picture will never do to send to Aunt Jane. She wears her hair so much more becomingly now—and anyway, it's high time there was another picture for the family collection.

Woman Causes Trouble Which Ends in Gun-play With Colored Man Victim

Henry Valentine, of Bloomingburg, Shot Through Shoulder by John Williams.

WILLIAMS IS CHARGED WITH SHOOTING TO KILL

White Woman Was in Valentine's House When Shooting Occurred, and Valentine Claims Attempt at Blackmailing Was Made By Man Who Called Him to Door and Shot Him Over the Heart.

John Williams, white, is wanted on a charge of shooting with intent to kill, while Henry Valentine, his victim, living at Bloomingburg, has been carrying a 32-caliber bullet in his left shoulder since Monday night, when Williams is alleged to have called him to the door and fired point-blank at him, evidently aiming for the heart.

The shooting occurred at Valentine's residence on Lincoln street, in Bloomingburg, about eight o'clock, and the affair only came to light Tuesday evening when Valentine came to this city and swore out a warrant for the arrest of Williams on the charge of shooting with intent to kill. Valentine had dressed his own wound, and the shoulder was badly inflamed as a result of improper attention.

When an attempt was made to place Williams under arrest he could not be found, and it is supposed that he skipped the country to save himself from the clutches of the law.

According to Valentine the shooting is alleged to have occurred over Williams' wife, who attained considerable notoriety under the name of Zimmerman some two years ago. According to Valentine, the woman was in his house at the time of the shooting. She is a white woman. Valentine explains her presence there, it is claimed, by saying that she had come there to warn him against her husband, whom it is alleged had openly boasted that he was going to kill Valentine, and it is supposed that when he called the colored man to the door and fired upon him without exchanging words that he fully intended to end his life.

Valentine had been warned to improve his conduct, and for this reason.

Mrs. W. B. Woodward returned last evening from a visit with her son, Ernest, at Granville.

Mrs. Isaac Tole was called from her home in Marion last night by the critical illness of Mr. Abner Smith.

Mr. John Brown and family, of Bloomingburg, were guests of Jess Wilson over Sunday.

Mr. T. M. Palmer, of Jeffersonville, is here to attend the races.

Mrs. W. H. Crawford, of Mt. Clemens, Mich., is the guest of Mrs. L. C. Mallow.

The Fall Races

Ideal fall weather, bright and bracing, the greatest array of horses ever on the Fair grounds and the track in splendid shape give indications that the fall races of the Washington Matinee club will be the banner event of its kind and set a new highwater mark for Fayette county.

Not alone are the entries so complete but the class of horses is exceptionally high and a gratifying proof of the raising of standards under the efforts of the matinee club. There are a large number of well known horsemen on the grounds and more coming tomorrow.

At press time the races are starting off in splendid shape, Thursday will undoubtedly be a bigger day than today and the weather promises to be warmer.

The crowds today are filled with enthusiasm and enjoying the sport to the limit.

Music is being furnished by the Washington band.

IN SOCIETY

Mrs. Alden Bush delightfully entertained at her cozy country home on the Bush road on Tuesday, October 8th, at 2 o'clock, a number of her girl friends, at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Ruth Fults, whose wedding took place yesterday.

The home was prettily decorated in roses, carnations and ferns. Hearts were festooned on the curtains and prettily draped in the doorway between the dining room and sitting room, and from the ceiling to each corner of the dining table. The pink and white color scheme was carried throughout.

A "Bat" contest kept the crowd guessing. Miss Mary Craig received the first prize which was a very pretty picture, and Mrs. Frank Miller the "booby" prize, a china plate. These were then presented to the bride.

A two-course luncheon was served. The place cards were hearts with cupid tied with baby ribbon.

After the luncheon a blank cook book by "Dan Cupid" was passed and each were requested to write their favorite recipe in it to be presented to the bride-to-be.

Many useful and beautiful presents were then showered to the bride-to-be.

Every one reported a good jolly time and regretted that twilight reminded them that the time to go had come.

Those present were Misses Ruth Fults, Mabel Calvert, Ruth Perrill, Mina Rowe, Nina Bonham, Louise Weaver, Louise Ballard, Mabel Shoop, Massie Shoop, Athel Fults, Mary Craig, Ethel Miller, Belle Taylor, Mesdames Fred Springer, Frank Miller and J. P. Bush.

Those assisting the hostess were Miss Bell Taylor and Mrs. J. P. Bush.

Mrs. Val McCoy is entertaining at her delightful country home today Mrs. Hibben Ervin, Mrs. W. A. Harlow, Mrs. Maude Coffman, Mrs. Jos. P. Bailey, Mrs. J. N. Willson, Mrs. Robert Howat, of this city, and Mrs. Roy Hegler of Hegler's Station.

The engagement of Howard Hudson, cashier of the Merchants and Farmers bank of Blanchester, and Miss Opal Dowden, of Sabina, has been announced, the wedding to occur October 26. Both are popular young people in their home towns.

IT'S TRUE

Mother has had her picture taken rather oftener than father has—but even she hasn't been in two years, and that picture will never do to send to Aunt Jane. She wears her hair so much more becomingly now—and anyway, it's high time there was another picture for the family collection.

Hero Worship of Gun Men Latest Craze of Women of High Caste

Women whose names stand for all that is respectable, women reared in the most refined surroundings seeking out the unsavory dives of the underworld and actually paying for the privilege of pressing red-stained hands, whose chief occupation is pressing the trigger!

Puts a strain on the imagination to conjure such a picture, but photographic reproductions of such scenes would have been possible scores of times in the last six months if the principals in the strange meeting of social extremes had been willing. This newest and most startling phase of metropolitan life, so far as the good woman is concerned, is not an outgrowth of the recent murder which centered the searchlight of publicity on the desperadoes who have put murder on a commercial basis.

The fad—that is the most charitable thing to call it—had its inception early in the new year during one of the periods when the "gun men" were carrying on running fusillades in the crowded streets of the great east side. It began in a drawing room just off Fifth avenue one night late in January, when a young woman, surfeited with society, opera, travel and attentions of uninteresting young swains, ventured the opinion that "it would be awfully interesting to meet one of those 'gun men' face to face."

Start of the Newest "Fad."

One of the young men of her set, anxious to curry favor, as well as to make good his boast that he knew police officials who had the open sesame to the sorts to arrange such a meeting. That's how it began. The party, including the young woman and several of her girl friends, under escort of several well known young men, left the young woman's home about midnight. The chauffeur was directed to a saloon not far from Chatham square where the police make their first stop after a crime has been committed.

In the dim light permissible in back rooms that evade the excise law by keeping open after hours these well bred girls shook hands with criminals of the worst type, men who take murder and arson contracts every day in the week, men who have been able to cheat the death chair time and again through their own cunning and the powerful assistance of the men and women of the underworld.

Encouraged to talk by liberal retainers, these murderers regaled their visitors with crime after crime which they had committed. Some more daring than the rest told of men they had killed for hire and the price that had been paid to them. The women went death white during these recitals and one of them was on the verge of fainting several times from sheer fright. Her companions, and even her vicious entertainers, told her there was nothing to fear. It was broad daylight when the car got back to the Fifth avenue district.

Provided New Sensation.

"The most exquisite terror I've ever had," was the way the young woman who organized the party expressed herself when asked about it. Little

by little the story of the adventure got out among the friends of the participants and it was not long before another "seeing the gun men" party was organized.

Women who have been present at these affairs say they provide the only genuine thrill left to those whose sole aim is to find new sensations. Not the least interesting, as well as amusing, feature of the nocturnal pastime is the readiness with which the "gun men" and thieves appreciate their value as criminal exhibits. A ten dollar bill and liberal refreshment would insure the visitors a pleasant chat with one of the aristocrats of thugdom. Now the introductions and gatherings are arranged beforehand for a certain price.

"Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie," "Whitely Jack" Lewis, "Dago Frank" and the other "gun men" accused of having filled Rosenthal with lead had attained the prominence of "stars" in the drama staged by the underworld for the gratification of morbidly curious women. Indeed, they were commanding such fancy prices for handshakes and a few hours' conversation that their companions now refer to them as "suckers" for giving up a good income to take a chance on the chair.

Hard to Understand.

By this time you are trying to figure out the answer. Why should the well bred girl or woman want to breathe the same air with such vile creatures? It's a riddle to those who are acquainted with the facts, as it will be to those normal men and women who are now learning of the situation for the first time.

Do not dismiss the matter with the statement that they are silly matinee girls. They are not. The matinee girls demand good looks and at least a sham bravery in their idols. These municipal outlaws have neither good looks nor courage to recommend them. They are cowards of the very worst type.

This is proved by the fact that they seldom go "man hunting" alone. They travel in bands of five or six. A careful search of the police records fails to disclose a case in which they gave their victims anything like an even chance. Four of them riddled the unfortunate gambler whose sensational killing has had the city by the ears for weeks. Time and again these craven cowards have used innocent children as shields in their street battles. No matinee girl would waste a thought on such apologies for men.

The women who have been worshipping at the shrines of these criminals and making profitable their idle hours are of a far different type than the so-called silly matinee girl. They are women of supposed refinement and assured social position, women who have reached the point where matinee idols bore them. They will tell you they are interested from a psychological standpoint.

Satiated, Seek Something New.

A few of them are telling the truth, but the majority of those who have been among those present at the five o'clock (a. m.) "teas" have never shown the slightest interest in such matters up to the present time. In this case, as in many others, the word psychological is an excellent alibi for those who favor the unconventional.

Most healthy minded persons will ascribe this latest slant of some feminine minds to the same mental equipment which induces a woman to send flowers to a murderer. Right in line with the craze to meet well known and popular murderers (at the prevailing rate for an introduction) was the intense interest betrayed by many respectable women and girls, sojourning in the Catskills when they learned that the alleged assassins of Rosenthal were in that vicinity. Detectives who were detailed to hunt the criminals returned with stories of how the women had besieged them to put the criminals on exhibition if they were captured.

Above All Other Pastimes.

Golf, tennis, boating, and all the other vacation pastimes were neglected while many of the weaker (?) sex discussed the delightful possibility of exchanging conversation with a real, honest and truly murderer. Photographs of the hunted men printed in all the newspapers, were criticized from every angle, and there were numerous tiffs between girls, who had disagreed as to the beauty qualifications of "Gyp the Blood" and some of his companions in flight. When these women learned that "Whitely Jack" Lewis had been caught and brought to this city without their getting the opportunity of meeting him they expressed their opinion of the detectives in forcible language.

Popularity of "Gyp the Blood."

Because of his willingness to "hit the pipe" for the entertainment of visitors, "Gyp the Blood" is said to have commanded a better price than any of the other criminals. He is a victim of the opium habit, and was wont to joke over being well paid for indulging in his favorite pastime.

"What do I think of them?" repeated one of the criminals who had been asked for his estimate of his uptown admirers.

"Plumb dippy," he replied. Most normal persons will be inclined to endorse that pitiful opinion. —New York Herald.

PREPARING FOR ACTUAL WAR

Large Sums of Money Expended for Models Destroyed as Object Lesson for Gunners.

Near Okehampton, England, the other day a dummy village that had been especially built for the purpose was blown to pieces by shell fire from a battery of heavy guns placed some distance away, the object of the curious and costly experiment being, of course, to find out exactly what would happen to a real village in similar circumstances, says Pearson's Weekly.

The idea, which is not exactly a new one, was borrowed originally from Germany, where some very elaborate experiments on similar lines have been conducted.

One of these involved the construction of an exact model to scale of the great Fortress of Spandau. The model was not a toy, but a real fort in miniature, covering over four acres of ground and costing $675,000 to build. Walls, bastions, glacis, redoubts, were all solidly and substantially made. A powder magazine, in which some scores of barrels of powder were stored, was placed in exactly the same position as the real powder magazine occupied in the real fortress. Even the "money tower," wherein is kept at Spandau, ever since 1874, the sum of $6,000,000 in coin for the purpose of immediate use in case of war, was duplicated, and dummy "treasure chests," filled with steel ingots, were placed inside it. When all was ready the bombardment commenced. The guns used were real cannons, but they were fitted inside the bores with inner "jacket" tubes, so as to admit of miniature shells being fired at the miniature fortress.

Four hundred shots were fired, but the magazine remained unexploded, although every effort was made to demolish it. The money tower, however, was wrecked and the "treasure" was scattered in all directions.

A far more elaborate experiment, also conducted by Germany, was made in 1869, when Bismarck and Moltke together were planning to attack France. A scale model of Paris was built, with the fortifications and principal buildings all carefully marked out. These were then bombarded at various distances, and the effects carefully noted.

As a result, when the real Paris came to be bombarded in grim earnest some two years later, the German artillerymen were able to place their shells within the doomed city exactly how and where they liked, having previously got the ranges by experimenting on the model.

It will doubtless surprise many people, too, to learn that similar tactics have been adopted by Germany as regards England. Large-scale models of the fortifications of Portsmouth, at all events, were constructed and blown to pieces by shell fire some little time back on a lonely spot in the island of Rugen, in the Baltic sea, and doubtless other experiments of a like nature have been carried out.

Nautical Distinctions.

"How do you tell the difference between a yacht and a sailboat?" said the girl with the inquiring mind.

"By lookin' into the pantry," replied Captain Cleet. "If she carries plenty of refreshments and seagars, she's a yacht. If it's mostly plain victuals, she's a sailboat."

Federated Women's Clubs

The forthcoming meeting of the State convention of Federated Women's clubs will afford an opportunity to many of those in attendance to see a portion of the state that holds much of interest and to which some are perhaps utter strangers. Athens, at which place the convention will be held October 14, 15, 16 and 17, 1912, is situated in the valley of the Rock-Hocking.

Athens was the first seat of advanced education in the great northwest, the Ohio University being established there over a century ago by federal congressional action.

At this time of the year Athens and her environs present scenes of autumnal beauty. Look where you may you gaze upon a picture of loveliness. The wooded hills, the emerald grass clad slopes and the sparkling streams, threading the fruitful valleys, enrich the vision.

To those possessing automobiles a trip to Athens in this way would be a revelation to many unaccustomed to the hill country.

No county presents more interesting annals in history than does Athens, and beside the history and tradition of the Redmen and the pioneer settlers, within a short distance of Athens are found some of the most interesting works of the moundbuilders.

It is quite probable that a number of visitors will accompany the delegates to Athens from all over the state, and Mrs. Jennie Thomas Huckins, president of the Federation, urges all who possibly can to attend this meeting. Ample provision for their entertainment will be provided. The faculty and student body of Ohio University, the Commercial club and the Federated Clubs of Athens have joined hands in the effort to make this meeting the most successful yet held.

The Browning club of this city will be represented at the Federation by Mrs. Ada Jones and it is hoped that other club women will attend.

THE PRETTIEST GIRL IN WASHINGTON C. H.

"My niece," said a well known man the other day, "is often called the prettiest girl in Washington. I believe half the compliments she gets are due to her shirt waists. They are always as clean and dainty looking as a snowflake. She's mighty particular about them. She won't use the cheap, ordinary, rosin soaps for washing, but buys this 'Easy Task Soap' you hear so much talk about. It seems that 'Easy Task Soap' just naturally goes after the dirt and doesn't eat into and rot the fabrics like the common yellow rosin soaps. It costs the same—a nickel a cake."

AFFECTED HISTORY OF WORLD

Influence of Jean Jacques Rousseau May Be Traced to Trivial Incident in Boyhood.

In a village school in Boissey, Switzerland, one day in the first quarter of the eighteenth century, Jean Jacques Rousseau, then a ten-year-old boy, was severely chastised because he was suspected of having broken teeth in a comb which did not belong to him. He was innocent, and the most terrible punishment could not wring from him an untrue confession.

The boy did not stop to reason that there was strong circumstantial evidence to justify suspicion in his direction. He felt only the rigor of a frightful chastisement for an offense of which he was guiltless. And the association of ideas was permanent; a lasting impression was left on him. The one idea which ever remained strange to him, and which he resisted in theory and practice, was that of duty. Unable to identify himself with the society in which he lived, he failed to appreciate the obligations to one's fellows which are the best part of human life.

Yet his influence for good was felt—is still being felt. It may be traced in the current political movements in France, in England and even in America. He struck out for the rights of the many against the few—against plutocracy and selfishness. He demanded that the people should rule, and that same demand is being urged throughout the civilized world today. The wrongfully administered punishment which Jean Jacques received in the country school was not in vain.—Kansas City Star.

Mrs. Paul Wehling, 316 Smith St., Peoria, Ill., had kidney and bladder trouble, with terrible backache and pain across the hips. Just imagine her condition. She further says: "I was also very nervous, had headaches and dizzy spells, and was fast getting worse when I took Foley Kidney Pills, and now all my troubles are cured. Foley Kidney Pills have done so much for me I shall always recommend them." Foley Kidney Pills are rich in curative qualities and contain no habit forming drugs. Try them. GUNMEN BOAST OF THEIR EXPL. OITS.

WOMEN whose names stand for all that is respectable, women reared in the most refined surroundings seeking out the unsavory dives of the underworld and actually paying for the privilege of pressing red-stained hands, whose chief occupation is pressing the trigger!

Puts a strain on the imagination to conjure such a picture, but photographic reproductions of such scenes would have been possible scores of times in the last six months if the principals in the strange meeting of social extremes had been willing. This newest and most startling phase of metropolitan life, so far as the good woman is concerned, is not an outgrowth of the recent murder which centered the searchlight of publicity on the desperadoes who have put murder on a commercial basis.

The fact—that is the most charitable thing to call it—had its inception early in the new year during one of the periods when the "gun men" were carrying on running fusillades in the crowded streets of the great east side. It began in a drawing room just off Fifth avenue one night late in January, when a young woman, surfeited with society, opera, travel and attentions of uninteresting young swains, ventured the opinion that "it would be awfully interesting to meet one of those 'gun men' face to face."

One of the young men of her set, anxious to curry favor, as well as to make good his boast that he knew police officials who had the open sesame to the sorts to arrange such a meeting. That's how it began. The party, including the young woman and several of her girl friends, under escort of several well known young men, left the young woman's home about midnight. The chauffeur was directed to a saloon not far from Chatham square where the police make their first stop after a crime has been committed.

In the dim light permissible in back rooms that evade the excise law by keeping open after hours these well bred girls shook hands with criminals of the worst type, men who take murder and arson contracts every day in the week, men who have been able to cheat the death chair time and again through their own cunning and the powerful assistance of the men and women of the underworld.

Encouraged to talk by liberal retainers, these murderers regaled their visitors with crime after crime which they had committed. Some more daring than the rest told of men they had killed for hire and the price that had been paid to them. The women went death white during these recitals and one of them was on the verge of fainting several times from sheer fright. Her companions, and even her vicious entertainers, told her there was nothing to fear. It was broad daylight when the car got back to the Fifth avenue district.

"The most exquisite terror I've ever had," was the way the young woman who organized the party expressed herself when asked about it. Little

by little the story of the adventure got out among the friends of the participants and it was not long before another "seeing the gun men" party was organized.

Women who have been present at these affairs say they provide the only genuine thrill left to those whose sole aim is to find new sensations. Not the least interesting, as well as amusing, feature of the nocturnal pastime is the readiness with which the "gun men" and thieves appreciate their value as criminal exhibits. A ten dollar bill and liberal refreshment would insure the visitors a pleasant chat with one of the aristocrats of thugdom. Now the introductions and gatherings are arranged beforehand for a certain price.

"Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Louie," "Whitey Jack" Lewis, "Dago Frank" and the other "gun men" accused of having killed Rosenthal with lead had attained the prominence of "stars" in the drama staged by the underworld for the gratification of morbidly curious women. Indeed, they were commanding such fancy prices for handshakes and a few hours' conversation that their companions now refer to them as "suckers" for giving up a good income to take a chance on the chair.

Hard to Understand.

By this time you are trying to figure out the answer. Why should the well bred girl or woman want to breathe the same air with such vile creatures? It's a riddle to those who are acquainted with the facts, as it will be to those normal men and women who are now learning of the situation for the first time.

Do not dismiss the matter with the statement that they are silly matinee girls. They are not. The matinee girls demand good looks and at least a sham bravery in their idols. These municipal outlaws have neither good looks nor courage to recommend them. They are cowards of the very worst type.

This is proved by the fact that they seldom go "man hunting" alone. They travel in bands of five or six. A careful search of the police records fails to disclose a case in which they gave their victims anything like an even chance. Four of them riddled the unfortunate gambler whose sensational killing has had the city by the ears for weeks. Time and again these craven cowards have used innocent children as shields in their street battles. No matinee girl would waste a thought on such apologies for men.

The women who have been worshipping at the shrines of these criminals and making profitable their idle hours are of a far different type than the so-called silly matinee girl. They are women of supposed refinement and assured social position, women who have reached the point where matinee idols bore them. They will tell you they are interested from a psychological standpoint.

Satiated, Seek Something New.

A few of them are telling the truth, but the majority of those who have been among those present at the five o'clock (a. m.) "fads" have never shown the slightest interest in such matters up to the present time. In this case, as in many others, the word psychological is an excellent alibi for those who favor the unconventional.

Most healthy minded persons will ascribe this latest slant of some feminine minds to the same mental equipment which induces a woman to send flowers to a murderer. Right in line with the craze to meet well known and popular murderers (at the prevailing rate for an introduction) was

The intense interest betrayed by many respectable women and girls, sojourning in the Catskills when they learned that the alleged assassins of Rosenthal were in that vicinity. Detectives who were detailed to hunt the criminals returned with stories of how the women had besieged them to put the criminals on exhibition if they were captured.

Above All Other Pastimes.

Golf, tennis, boating, and all the other vacation pastimes were neglected while many of the weaker (?) sex discussed the delightful possibility of exchanging conversation with a real, honest and truly murderer. Photographs of the hunted men printed in all the newspapers, were criticized from every angle, and there were numerous tiffs between girls, who had disagreed as to the beauty qualifications of "Gyp the Blood" and some of his companions in flight. When these women learned that "Whitey Jack" Lewis had been caught and brought to this city without their getting the opportunity of meeting him they expressed their opinion of the detectives in forcible language.

Because of his willingness to "hit the pipe" for the entertainment of visitors, "Gyp the Blood" is said to have commanded a better price than any of the other criminals. He is a victim of the opium habit, and was wont to joke over being well paid for indulging in his favorite pastime.

"What do I think of them?" repeated one of the criminals who had been asked for his estimate of his uptown admirers.

"Plumb dippy," he replied. Most normal persons will be inclined to endorse that pithy opinion.—New York Herald

PREPARING FOR ACTUAL WAR

Large Sums of Money Expended for Models Destroyed as Object Lesson for Gunners.

Near Okehampton, England, the other day a dummy village that had been especially built for the purpose was blown to pieces by shell fire from a battery of heavy guns placed some distance away, the object of the curious and costly experiment being, of course, to find out exactly what would happen to a real village in similar circumstances, says Pearson's Weekly.

The idea, which is not exactly a new one, was borrowed originally from Germany, where some very elaborate experiments on similar lines have been conducted.

One of these involved the construction of an exact model to scale of the great Fortress of Spandau. The model was not a toy, but a real fort in miniature, covering over four acres of ground and costing $675,000 to build. Walls, bastions, glacis, redoubts, were all solidly and substantially made. A powder magazine, in which some scores of barrels of powder were stored, was placed in exactly the same position as the real powder magazine occupied in the real fortress. Even the "money tower," wherein is kept at Spandau, ever since 1874, the sum of $6,000,000 in coin for the purpose of immediate use in case of war, was duplicated, and dummy "treasure chests," filled with steel ingots, were placed inside it. When all was ready the bombardment commenced. The guns used were real cannons, but they were fitted inside the bores with inner "jacket" tubes, so as to admit of miniature shells being fired at the miniature fortress.

Four hundred shots were fired, but the magazine remained unexploded, although every effort was made to demolish it. The money tower, however, was wrecked and the "treasure" was scattered in all directions.

A far more elaborate experiment, also conducted by Germany, was made in 1869, when Bismarck and Moltke together were planning to attack France. A scale model of Paris was built, with the fortifications and principal buildings all carefully marked out. These were then bombarded at various distances, and the effects carefully noted.

As a result, when the real Paris came to be bombarded in grim earnest some two years later, the German artillerymen were able to place their shells within the doomed city exactly how and where they liked, having previously got the ranges by experimenting on the model.

It will doubtless surprise many people, too, to learn that similar tactics have been adopted by Germany as regards England. Large-scale models of the fortifications of Portsmouth, at all events, were constructed and blown to pieces by shell fire some little time back on a lonely spot in the island of Rugen, in the Baltic sea, and doubtless other experiments of a like nature have been carried out.

Nautical Distinctions.

"How do you tell the difference between a yacht and a sailboat?" said the girl with the inquiring mind.

"By lookin' into the pantry," replied Captain Cleet. "If she carries plenty of refreshments and seagars, she's a yacht. If it's mostly plain victuals, she's a sailboat."

Federated Women's Clubs

The forthcoming meeting of the State convention of Federated Women's clubs will afford an opportunity to many of those in attendance to see a portion of the state that holds much of interest and to which some are perhaps utter strangers. Athens, at which place the convention will be held October 14, 15, 16 and 17, 1912, is situated in the valley of the Hock-Hocking.

Athens was the first seat of advanced education in the great north-west, the Ohio University being established there over a century ago by federal congressional action.

At this time of the year Athens and her environs present scenes of autumnal beauty. Look where you may you gaze upon a picture of loveliness. The wooded hills, the emerald grass clad slopes and the sparkling streams, threading the fruitful valleys, enrich the vision.

To those possessing automobiles a trip to Athens in this way would be a revelation to many unaccustomed to the hill country.

No county presents more interesting annals in history than does Athens, and beside the history and tradition of the Redmen and the pioneer settlers, within a short distance of Athens are found some of the most interesting works of the moundbuilders.

It is quite probable that a number of visitors will accompany the delegates to Athens from all over the state, and Mrs. Jennie Thomas Huchins, president of the Federation, urges all who possibly can to attend this meeting. Ample provision for their entertainment will be provided. The faculty and student body of Ohio University, the Commercial club and the Federated Clubs of Athens have joined hands in the effort to make this meeting the most successful yet held.

The Browning club of this city will be represented at the Federation by Mrs. Ada Jones and it is hoped that other club women will attend.

THE PRETTIEST GIRL IN WASHINGTON C. H.

"My niece," said a well known man the other day, "is often called the prettiest girl in Washington. I believe half the compliments she gets are due to her shirt waists. They are always as clean and dainty looking as a snowflake. She's mighty particular about them. She won't use the cheap, ordinary, rosin soaps for washing, but buys this 'Easy Task Soap' you hear so much talk about. It seems that 'Easy Task Soap' just naturally goes after the dirt and doesn't eat into and rot the fabrics like the common yellow rosin soaps. It costs the same—a nickle a cake."

AFFECTED HISTORY OF WORLD

In a village school in Bolessey, Switzerland, one day in the first quarter of the eighteenth century, Jean Jacques Rousseau, then a ten-year-old boy, was severely chastised because he was suspected of having broken teeth in a comb which did not belong to him. He was innocent, and the most terrible punishment could not wring from him an untrue confession.

The boy did not stop to reason that there was strong circumstantial evidence to justify suspicion in his direction. He felt only the rigor of a frightful chastisement for an offense of which he was guiltless. And the association of ideas was permanent; a lasting impression was left on him. The one idea which ever remained strange to him, and which he resisted in theory and practice, was that of duty. Unable to identify himself with the society in which he lived, he failed to appreciate the obligations to one's fellows which are the best part of human life.

Yet his influence for good was felt—is still being felt. It may be traced in the current political movements in France, in England and even in America. He struck out for the rights of the many against the few—against plutocracy and selfishness. He demanded that the people should rule, and that same demand is being urged throughout the civilized world today. The wrongfully administered punishment which Jean Jacques received in the country school was not in vain.—Kansas City Star.

Mrs. Paul Wehling, 316 Smith St., Peoria, Ill., had kidney and bladder trouble, with terrible backache and pain across the hips. Just imagine her condition. She further says: "I was also very nervous, had headaches and dizzy spells, and was fast getting worse when I took Foley Kidney Pills, and now all my troubles are cured. Foley Kidney Pills have done so much for me I shall always recommend them." Foley Kidney Pills are rich in curative qualities and contain no habit forming drugs. Try them. CHALMERS A BIG SURPRISE

Philadelphia Pitcher Returns to Winning Form After Long Retirement Account of Injuries.

The surprise of the Giant-Philadelphia series was that the one pitcher of the home team who was counted upon to do the least got away with a victory. This was George Chalmers. The latter came out of a long retirement, due to various injuries, and by a grand exhibition of twirling thrashed the New Yorkers. Moore, Alexander, Rixey and Seaton all fell down on the job and Doolin was forced to use several young twirlers as rescuers. Seaton, however, made good by pitching a shut-out victory.

Good to Tesreau.

They had to strain a point to make a no-hit game for Jeff Tesreau at Philadelphia on September 6, but not because the Big Bear did not do his part. The disputed hit was a short fly hit by Paskert. Both Merkle and Wilson went after it and let it drop between them. It was first scored as a hit, but Merkle afterwards declared without batting an eye that he touched the ball and took an error, so that Tesreau's hit column might be a blank.

Arties in Mix-Up.

Artie Hofman and Artie Butler did the Alphonse and Gaston act on a fly recently, and were roasted for being boneheads, but Manager Clarke came to their rescue with the explanation that it was due to both having the same names. Wagner shouted "Artie" for Butler and Carey shouted "Artie" for Hofman. The result was that both Arties ran after the ball and stopped to avoid a collision.

Great Work by Richie.

Lou Richie of the Chicago Cubs has done great work in the box for the team this year. He is only a pick-up pitcher, but his splendid twirling has helped mightily in putting the Cubs in the pennant race.

Gaston Suspended.

Dave Gaston was suspended for the season in the South Atlantic league because he was drawing more than the salary limit of the league.

Ritter Makes Record.

Lou Ritter, catcher for the Utica team of the New York State league, established a world's record by catching every inning played by the team in 189 games.

STORIES OF THE DIAMOND

It is said that the temperance clause in the contract of the Pirates is to be removed.

Wiltse and Meyers of the Giants are the best batting battery in the National league.

Joe, Birmingham is willing to work 18 hours of each day to make good as manager of the Naps.

In the morning game of Labor day, Pitcher Hixon of Indianapolis allowed Columbus but one hit.

Jack Chesbro, pitching for North Adams at Pittsfield, Mass., recently, was knocked out of the box.

"A ball player is a fool to pay any attention to what is said to him on the diamond," says Bill Sweeney.

Frank Smith of Montreal held Rochester to three hits on September 4. Two of them came in the ninth inning.

One thing the Giants have on the Red Sox is base-stealing ability. Still, that didn't get them much against the Athletics.

The White Sox, it is said, will train on the coast in 1913. A place—Paso Robles by name—is the spot named for the training.

Joe Wood has relied on speed, control and support for his recent victories. He doesn't use his curve unless he has to.

James Esmond, an infielder, was released by the Cincinnati National league club to the Montreal club of the International league.

Frank Bancroft will as usual take the Reds barnstorming this fall. The trip will include games in Southern Ohio and West Virginia.

Topsy Hartsell says he expects to remain at the head of the Toledo team next year and win a pennant, and has no desire to lead the Naps.

The Giants found the eastern team of the National league much easier to beat this season than they did the teams comprising the western end of the circuit.

As a rule, pitchers are jokes when it comes to hitting the ball, but "Bunnie" Hearn crossed the dope recently when he made three home runs in a nine-inning game.

President Lucas Dead.

President W. H. Lucas of the Union Association of Professional Baseball clubs dropped dead at his home in Missoula, Mont. Lucas had been identified with baseball in the western part of the country since the late '80s.

Experts who sized up Pitcher Schegg, the Nebraska Indian whom Clark Griffith sent to Atlanta, declared that he had nothing but a wind-up.

Fleider Jones is reported to have ruled the Northwestern league with an iron hand the past summer and will have a fight on his hands to be re-elected this fall.

Clark Griffith is not regarded as a hard luck leader any more. He has taken his place as one of the real brainy managers because of his great showing this year.

California Girl a Wonder At Long Distance Swims

Photos by American Press-Association.

WITH tears of happiness and sobs of relieved anxiety the mother of Nellie Schmidt clasped her daughter into her arms and rained kisses of joy upon her. Nellie, who is the champion woman swimmer of California, had just safely completed the feat of swimming around the famous Seal rocks, off the Cliff House, San Francisco. For those who do not know this is considered a dangerous task for even the most expert of male swimmers. Miss Schmidt swam the mile against strong tides and rippling currents in 34 minutes 50 seconds. Her other feats of importance were as follows: Aug. 20, 1911, crossed Golden Gate in record time of 42 minutes; Aug. 11, 1912, crossed San Francisco bay in 3 hours 6 minutes. Her swim conclusively proves the right of her claim of being the woman speed champion in open water. It is doubtful if even Miss Vera Neave of England, holder of the world's mile record, could outdistance the Alameda wonder.

WIRELESS SAVES MAN LOSS

Message Sent From Midocean Is Accepted in Court in Lieu of Formal Affidavit.

San Francisco, Cal.—Instructions sent by wireless from the steamer Nippon Maru by Dr. Otis B. Spaulding, ship's doctor, to his attorney here, secured him temporary relief recently from an order for the sale of his property for the satisfaction of his divorced wife's unpaid alimony.

The Nippon Maru is now in the middle of the Pacific, en route here from the Orient. The wireless message was produced in court by Spaulding's attorney and accepted in lieu of an affidavit.

Mrs. Spaulding was granted an interlocutory decree and $75 per month alimony October 11, 1910, Spaulding defaulting the case. His attorney now says that he will contest the case when it comes up for final action.

Ladies Have Close Call In Bad Runaway Accident

Mrs. Frank DeWitt and Misses Grace Timmons and Vassa Tomlinson, of New Holland Have Exciting Experience East of the City at Noon Today.

Two runaway accidents which came very near terminating seriously, occurred on the Circleville pike near the Taylor farm about noon Wednesday, when the horse driven by Miss Grace Timmons and Miss Vassa Tomlinson, of New Holland, took fright at a drove of sheep driven by Mr. John Anders of this city, and ran away, frightening a horse driven by Mrs. Frank DeWitt, which also ran away.

Miss Timmons and Miss Tomlinson were thrown violently from the buggy and Miss Tomlinson suffered a badly sprained and bruised lower right limb. Miss Timmons escaped with a severe shaking up, but both suffered severe nervous shocks.

Mrs. DeWitt was also hurled from her buggy and suffered severe sprains and bruises, but fortunately was not seriously injured.

Both horses escaped from their drivers, and the DeWitt horse kicked loose from the buggy and ran at breakneck speed toward home, being captured near home sometime later. The rig was badly damaged. The horse driven by Miss Timmons ran a short distance and was captured. Both animals escaped bad injuries. Mr. Anders rendered all assistance in his power, and deeply regretted the accidents which came so near proving serious.

The Timmons rig was brought to this city and Miss Timmons and Miss Tomlinson, who is the former's guest and whose home is at Richmondale, Ross county, returned home in the evening. Miss Tomlinson had her injuries dressed by a local physician.

Katz Store In Wilmington

Mr. Leo Katz has just closed negotiations for a 15-year lease on the John H. Hale three-story building located in the heart of Wilmington, and just as soon as he can have the building remodeled and a plate glass front put in, he will open up his fourth large clothing store.

The firm name will be Bonecutter & Katz, Mr. Al Bonecutter, who has been one of Mr. Katz's right-hand men for the past twelve years, assuming active management of the new store. He will move his family to Wilmington in the near future.

Mr. Katz's new store is ideally located, being on West Main street next to the new Masonic Temple, and near the corner where the two principal streets intersect. He will be in possession of the new store, November 1st and will commence immediately to remodel the structure until it will be the most handsome clothing store in Wilmington.

The building fronts 30 feet on W. Main street, and is 50 feet deep and three stories high. It will probably be two months before the store will be open to the public.

To secure the lease it was necessary to purchase a restaurant and barber shop, as both had leases on the building. An electric elevator may be installed in the building in order to make easy access to the second and third floors.

The new store will be the fourth operated by Mr. Katz and his associates. The largest of the stores is in this city and the other two now in active operation are Caldwell & Katz of Circleville, and Katz Brothers at Piqua.

Mr. Katz has attained widespread fame as one of the state's most enterprising young business men.

Groceries and Queensware

Mr. A. T. Williams, our local gardener, has made about 90 gallons of fine Tomato Ketchup. He has asked us to help him sell same.

It is packed in quart jars at 25c, and in one gallon jars at 90c. The quality of the Ketchup is very fine. At 25c per quart it is about one half the price of Heinz, Snider's, or any other high grade ketchup.
